

WHAT GOES INTO AN E-CELL EVENT

Wait! Was that all? No, a big no. We have made mistakes; at times, we were unable to present the quality of work we originally envisioned. But that's where something starts we rarely tell anyone. We find out the bottlenecks, our shortcomings, think of new ways, work on them, take more suggestions and bam! We will present it again, this time with more craftiness. So, if you haven't found our work as exciting as we say it would be, chances are pretty high that we are working on them, again.
